

WELCOME TO THE USWHBA

A registered 501(c) (3)

We would like to welcome you the US Wild Horse and Burro Association, USWHBA. This non-profit organization has been founded by both long time mustang owners and short time mustang owners, who all have a profound love for the mustang.

The USWHBA is a national organization that is unique in its activities. This organization has established, through its officers, a long working relationship with the BLM, and decided to further the support of The Wild Horse and Burro Program, to better assist adopters with their animals, and take it a step or two further, by embracing and assisting all US Wild Equine, and their owners.

Ever increasing costs to care for and transport abandoned, abused, or repossessed wild equines strains any organizations attempts to care for these special animals. Please consider supporting our efforts with a donation to the USWHBA and help us place more wild equines into good caring homes today.

The USWHBA is dedicated to being the number one organization for those interested in America's wild horses and burros.

Our website is <http://www.uswhba.org>. You can access information about the association, forms, and upcoming events, a list of mentors and trainers, and volunteers. Or, on our FACEBOOK page, US Wild Horse and Burro Assoc. both include success stories, event reports, news, and association business so you can be kept up to date on what is happening within the association.

The founders of this association want to make the USWHBA the most respected association in the wild equine world and we will work tirelessly to make that happen. We will also ask our membership to go the extra mile to achieve our common goals of putting as many wild equine as we possibly can into private care, and to get those equines, out in front of the public to show just how great they really are.

We at the national level are dedicated to helping our members do just that. We are able to supply training materials, promotion and event advertising, provide volunteers for adoptions across the country, and have funds available to reimburse our members when they reposes or rescue wild equines, and help with the funds to care for them while animals are being fostered.

Our association is dedicated to the implementation of all our plans, and rest assured that the officers will always be looking to the future, and will always try to do what is best for the association and the wild equine we all love so much.

We have a registration for qualified wild equine. This registration will allow us to keep track of wild equine. Provide breed registration documentation on animals for show and demonstration purposes, and to keep lifelong record of adopted wild equine.

Again we would like to welcome all to join the USWHBA. The officers and membership of this association are unlike any other. We promote volunteering to further the awareness of wild equine, we do not promote the breeding of wild equine, and we do not have a political agenda and never will. We are all dedicated to showing the horse loving world that our animals are every bit as capable as any domestic and in many cases even better.

If at any time you have questions or suggestions, please bring them to our attention. We feel that good ideas come from everywhere and even the smallest effort can make a big difference. We ask our members to help in anyway they are able. Some are trainers, some can help foster, some are great promoters and some are great speakers. It all adds up, and is beneficial to the association and the wild equine.

With the dedication of the officers and the help of the membership, the USWHBA is destined for great things. We hope you will join US in helping to make a real difference in the lives of wild equine.

Whether you are a first time adopter, or a seasoned veteran trainer, the USWHBA has something to offer you.

Sign up to be a Bureau of Land Management volunteer and work at adoptions in your area. Volunteers fill an important roll at adoptions by assisting the BLM team, and talking to the public and potential adopters. You must sign a BLM volunteer agreement which is valid for one year. Membership in USWHBA is not required to be a BLM volunteer.

Becoming a member of the USWHBA affords you even more opportunities. Membership gives you access to information about wild equine shows, events, and trail rides around the country. Membership puts you in contact with other wild equine adopters and owners. Membership provides you with a nation wide support group dedicated to insuring that your experience with America's wild equines is positive and fun. For experienced adopters and trainers, USWHBA offers opportunities in our training and mentoring programs. Share your knowledge about gentling and training with potential and first time adopters.

Thank you, and once again,
welcome to the US Wild Horse and Burro Association.
